

RANDY PENNINGTON

presents

The New Dynamics of Leadership™

“Seismic shifts are redefining business, communities, and individual life. Your ability to navigate and leverage them while flawlessly executing today will be the difference between continued excellence, irrelevance, or even extinction.”

-Randy Pennington

How to Move from Right Now to What’s Next

Formats:

- Live or virtual keynote presentation
- Live or virtual interactive leadership team discussions
- Live workshop of 2 – 3 hours
- Virtual workshop of up to 2 hours

You want your organization to:

- Deliver positive results today while building for a successful tomorrow.
- Sustain a high-performing culture that attracts and retains loyal customers and top talent.
- Embrace the need to deliver positive results today while being ready for the future.

Despite the barriers that we all know exist, the real problem is that while the leader’s job hasn’t changed, the dynamics of the environment are drastically different.

This session will equip and inspire your leaders to take a multi-dimensional approach to leadership that:

- Helps their team become comfortable with working and succeeding in a world where everything can shift in a heartbeat.
- Executes tangible strategies to keep people engaged and focused in times of uncertainty, upheaval, and crisis.
- Identify the gaps and take steps to enhance the fundamentals of your business and culture.
- Balance the need for flawless execution while remaining change ready and nimble.
- Build and sustain a future-seeking and collaboration-enabled culture that gives your organization a competitive edge in the marketplace.

Now is the time to pursue the New Next that positions you for growth, success, and continued relevance in the future.